RACHEL M. MAC 'DREAMS' Series

Rachel M. Mac, a classically trained cellist, intuitively integrates the structural elements of musical compositions into her art practice. Her visual art embodies a complex fusion of space, expressive brushstrokes, geometric color blocking, and dynamic motion achieved through aleatoric techniques. As in music, syncopated rhythms, random and vigorous marks, and penciled text stimulate our senses.

Mac's new series 'Dreams' offers a captivating glimpse into the artist's subconscious flow state, where deliberate brush strokes, intricate line work, architectural sketches, and spontaneous gestures symbolize the elusive images and faint memories that linger upon waking from a dream.

Each painting within the 'Dreams' series intricately captures the mind's recollection of interactions, movements, figures, and places from the dream-state. In our mind's eye, the vivid images prompt us to question their meaning, piecing together disconnected and overlapping fragments with reality. Each artwork is Mac's response to that state of consciousness - rendered in multilayered compositions of acrylic, ink, and oil pastel.

Raised on the North Shore of Long Island, the daughter of an architect, Mac's upbringing immersed her in blueprints and sketches. This early exposure cultivated her love for drawing and design. Alongside her visual arts pursuits, she delved into the performing arts, commencing her cello studies at the age of 8.

Pursuing both design and music, Mac went on to earn undergraduate and graduate degrees in Advertising and Cello Performance, from Penn State University and the University of Delaware. In 2018, Mac started sharing her paintings on social media and her paintings are now collected nationally. She lives and works in New York.
